Facebook

Tucked away on the far flung end of Dumbarton Road, there's more to this unassuming glass front bistro than meets the eye. Quirky driftwood adorning the walls and retro signage aside, Roastit Bubbly Jocks is serious about food – and, as the name suggests, Scottish food in particular. Here, neighbourhood eatery meets classic French styling, all with a nod to quality seasonal produce – hence an ever-changing market menu. Argyll venison or Dingwall haggis? Coming right up – and all with a full-length window view of bustling Partick outside.
